Learning Methods

Empowered to Influence uses a combination of video, reading, reflection and discussion.

Each participant receives a workbook with readings and process questions to reflect on how the Lord might be speaking to them. Since each paradigm builds upon the previous ones, its ideal for participants to plan to participate in all sessions.

This course is best done by the whole church – together, with complementary teaching from the pulpit.

Empowered to Influence © was produced by Mr. Ken Chua, a Singaporean businessman, and conducted as a live seminar in that country. The positive impact on believers, especially in the workplace, was evident. Simply Mobilizing International recorded Ken during one of the seminars and produced the ETI course which is formatted for use in local churches as a facilitated course.

Ken Chua is a senior Financial Service Director with a leading global financial institution. He lives in Singapore with his wife, Sharlene, and their two adult children. Ken is passionate about helping believers discover their call in their workplace and communities. Ken has also written a book on the same subject with the same title, Empowered to Influence.

It seems like POWER is at the center of many conversations these days.
Few have power. But everyone has INFLUENCE.
