

The Great Commission demands the Great Mobilization

Mobi 101 is an introductory seminar designed to provide a biblical foundation for understanding and clarifying different expressions of mobilization. It is especially helpful for those who feel an urgency to see God's people on mission with God, as it helps them identify how God has gifted them and where they can be most fruitful and find the greatest joy in their ministry.

Format

Mobi 101 can be offered as a single day (4-5 hours) session, over three evenings (1.5 hours each) or in another format that incorporates sufficient time to cover the content. Mobi 101 is available in person or online.

Content

Mobi 101 explores these themes:

What is the Bible All About? – We discover that the Bible is a story about God on mission and God on mission with his people. We clarify the three phases of God's mission, and God's two-fold agenda at work in his mission.

Apostles and Prophets and Mobilization – We explore the ministry of mobilization in scripture, particularly looking at the role of apostles and prophets who have provided primary leadership for God's people to be on mission with God since the time of Abraham.

Apostolic and Prophetic Mobilization in Today's World – We understand the three types of mobilization and their significance. We wrestle with the importance of biblical worldview formation in today's context.

Mobilizer's Profile – Participant discover their identity and shape in mobilizing ministry, and consider their unique context.

Growing and Developing the Tribe of Prophetic Mobilizers - We explore the need for community and equipping, and identify some practical next steps to continue the journey.
